

WILSON PRESENTS FRANCO-AMERICAN TREATY

GRAND JURORS IN SECOND REPORT IN CO' FARM AFFAIRS

Six Supervisors Named As Having Had Financial Dealings

John M. Sterling, present supervisor from the town of Dixon, and former Supervisors Morris L. Cook of Alto, U. G. Dysart of Viola, John E. Moyer of Dixon, Frank Young of South Dixon and W. C. Jones of Dixon, were found by the April grand jury, which submitted a second report today on conditions at the Lee County Infirmary, to have had financial dealings at the county home.

The report, which was submitted to Judge Farrand shortly after the noon hour, advocates placing the financial affairs of the infirmary on a business basis, recommends that the "expensive banquets" which have been served during the visits of the board to the home, be abolished, and also suggests that the evidence taken before the Grand Jury be transcribed and made a part of the county records in the office of the County Clerk. The report in full is:

The undersigned, Grand Jurors of said term of said Court, in special session called to investigate the affairs at, and the management of the County Home would respectfully report in addition to the former report herein—

We have diligently pursued the inquiry as to the subject matter herein. We find further evidence of the conditions mentioned in our report of July 5th. We find that in addition to the Supervisors mentioned therein that present and past members of the Board have dealt financially at the County Home either in the way of buying or selling commodities, directly, indirectly, Messrs. Sterling, U. G. Dysart, J. E. Moyer, Frank Young, and W. C. Jones; that this practice has been continued for a long time and should cease.

We further find that in our opinion the financial affairs at the County Farm have been extravagantly administered and that the said affairs should be placed upon a business basis. We further find that no adequate system of bookkeeping or record keeping existed at the County Farm and that we were unable to because of such fact to inquire into the financial conditions with the thoroughness of our desire; that we have made every effort to secure the same but were unable to ascertain that anything existed except the private memorandum of the Superintendent.

We recommend that a thorough system of books accounts be maintained at the County Home hereafter, the same to be permanent records of the County, and we would further respectfully recommend that hereafter the members of the County Board pay closer attention to the affairs at the County Home and investigate the conditions more frequently, and with more particularity.

We further find that the County Home Committee placed all confidence in the Superintendent of the County Home and that they did not know of the condition of the financial affairs at the home. This appears by the testimony of Messrs. Ewald, Bauer, Drew, Buckaloo, Buckley, Banks and Young.

We recommend that the expensive banquets given each year at the County Farm hereafter cease. We further report that we made every effort to secure the book accounts at the County Farm but for the reason that it appears that the same were the private memorandum of the Superintendent, and the Superintendent being under indictment we could not force him to produce same or divulge their contents. This fact we ascertained after a conference with the Court.

We finally recommend that the evidence taken before this Grand Jury be transcribed and made a permanent record and filed in the office of the County Clerk of this County.

LEE COUNTY TO HAVE FINE FAIR EXHIBIT

Lee county will be one of the best represented counties in the state this year at the state fair at the pure bred cattle exhibit. It was announced late yesterday that less than half a dozen breeders of pure bred Holstein cattle had offered to send a herd of about 20 show animals to the state fair. About ten days ago, the county advisor, who has the matter in charge, was assured that a herd of 15 pure bred Red Faced cattle from the Larabee farm near Paw Paw would be exhibited. He now has assurance that small herds of Angus and Guernsey cattle will also be sent to the state fair this year from Lee county.

DIXON MILITIA MAY BE CALLED TO CITY TO HELP STOP RIOT

Col. Bacon Orders Men to Hold Selves in Readiness

BULLETIN.

Capt. Fruin, commanding Co. F, has issued orders for the company to meet at the Armory at 3 o'clock this evening. Every member is expected to be present.

The members of Company F, Sixth Illinois Reserve Militia, may be called to Chicago to assist in quelling the race riot, to suppress which Mayor Thompson of Chicago last asked Gov. Lowden for troops.

Major Sam Cushing of this city, commanding the First Battalion of the regiment, which comprises of Dixon, Moline, Sycamore and DeKalb companies, this morning received orders from Col. Bacon of Oregon, commanding officer of the regiment, to notify the captains of those companies to hold themselves in readiness to assemble their organizations at short notice, and to locate and make arrangements to secure, if needed, supplies of shot guns and riot ammunition.

At 11 o'clock Major Cushing transmitted his orders to the commanding officers of the four companies. Men in the companies are not asked to quit work, nor are they ordered to mobilize. They are merely ordered to hold themselves in readiness for mobilization should the troops now on duty in Chicago be unable to preserve order.

AERIAL EXPRESS PLANE WILL BE HERE ON FRIDAY

Lieutenant Hassel is Coming to Deliver Clothes to V&O.

Lieut. B. R. Hassel, who piloted the first aeroplane express to this city, delivering a shipment of Society Brand clothes to Vaile & O'Malley, will return with his checkered plane with another shipment on Friday of this week.

Word has been received by Vaile & O'Malley to the effect that Alfred Decker & Cohen will send him to this city with the first delivery of fall goods on that date, and that he will arrive about 2:35 p. m. and make a landing at the same field as he did on June 12th, the date of his first trip to Dixon.

He will also stop at DeKalb to deliver a shipment to the DeKalb branch of Vaile & O'Malley and will go on to Sterling to make a delivery to Sullivan & O'Malley.

On his previous visit to Dixon he was visited at the landing field by a great throng of people, who watched him make a perfect landing and a good start for Rockford. Vaile & O'Malley extend a cordial invitation to Dixon and Lee county folks to be present Friday afternoon when Lieut. Hassel makes his second trip to this city.

15,000 CHICAGO STREET RAILWAY WORKERS STRIKE

Transportation Is Tied Up By Walkout After Unanimous Vote

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Ill., July 29.—Fifteen thousand street railway employees went on strike for higher wages at 4 o'clock this morning, completely tying up the surface and elevated systems of the city.

Six thousand of the surface and elevated men attended the meeting at the Carman's auditorium at which the strike vote was carried with a shout that appeared unanimous. Representatives of the men attempted to give an explanation of the negotiations between themselves and the companies of officials at which the compromise was reached, but the men swept their officials from control of the meeting. Boosting one of their number, said to represent the radical element in the union to the platform the men put over the strike vote with a roar, then proclaimed themselves in favor of an 80 cents an hour wage, an eight-hour day, a six-hour day Sunday and a six-day week.

Compromise Hissed.

For two hours William Quinlan, president of the Carman's union, fought to get the compromise proposition before the meeting. He aided by other officials, finally L. D. Bland, member of the international board of the union, attempted to get the terms of the agreement as to wages before meeting. Getting a brief silence he said:

"Remember, men, we are not fighting the traction companies in this matter. We are fighting the Chicago public."

"To hell with the public." "The public be damned." Several shouted and Bland threw up his hands and sat down. Quinlan shouted to the surface men and William Mylan, president of the elevated trainmen's division of the union, made another futile effort to be heard, but a crowd boosted Charles Dreckman, a conductor, to the platform and thereafter those favoring acceptance of the wage compromise were out of control of the gathering.

All Crews Notified.

The strike vote carried shortly before midnight, with the provision that the walkout take place at 4 a. m. As soon as it carried runners went to nearby elevated stations and notified the crews of each train as it rolled up to the platform. Others went to surface car lines and boarded street cars to inform the crews. Within an hour all employees had the information and by a little after 4 o'clock this morning the last of the cars had been run into the barns. By 4:30 o'clock the big barn doors were shut and the strike was in force.

Meantime large manufacturers and shop keepers had accepted the information conveyed by late editions of the evening papers and early extras of the morning papers that danger of a strike had passed through a wage agreement reached by representatives of the men and the companies. As a result there was little preparation of conveyance of employees to places of employment and business for the first hours of the day practically was at a standstill. The telephone company made provision for keeping its night force at the exchange and summoned as many of its employees as could be reached to report for duty at once.

Many Conveances In Service.

Every manner of conveyance was in service bearing workers to the central district this morning. Motor busses operated along the north, south and west side boulevards. Bicycles seldom seen in downtown streets in normal times, were requisitioned as well as motorcycles. Along the principal thoroughfares long lines of pedestrians wended their belated way to places of business.

Strike May Be Long.

None would venture a prediction as to the duration of the strike. Leonard A. Busby, president of the surface lines said he would reserve announcement of whether the company would attempt to operate its cars until later in the day. He added:

"The compromise was liberal and should have been accepted. It was more generous than settlements arrived at in Cleveland, Boston and Detroit."

Britton L. Budd, president of the elevated lines, said references to the held today would determine the attitude of the elevated officials. He was the last to assent to the compromise, protesting that the 8-cent fare which it would entail for the elevated lines would mean receivership for his companies on account of loss of traffic.

The terms of the compromise reached by leaders of both sides in the wage controversy would, it was stated, have involved a 7-cent surface fare and possibly an additional one cent charge for transfers, and an 8-cent elevated fare.

Formal authorization of the strike was made early today by President Quinlan and Mylan in a telegram to W. D. Mahon, international president at Detroit.

HOLD MILITIA IN READINESS TO GO TO CHICAGO'S AID

Five Regiments Given Orders To Be Ready To Do Service

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Springfield, Ill., July 29.—The Ninth and Tenth regiments, Illinois national guard, and the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth regiments, reserve militia, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for active service in the event additional troops are needed to quell the race disturbances in Chicago. Lieutenant Governor John G. Oglesby announced today. The orders were sent out early this morning before Governor Lowden, now in Chicago, returned to the state from Iowa.

All of the regiments are fully equipped with arms and ammunition.

Headquarters of the units are as follows: Fourth, Chicago; Fifth, Springfield; Sixth, Oregon; Ninth, Springfield; Tenth, Danville.

Commanding officers were directed to keep in close touch with their men. "There is no idea of mobilizing these troops now," Lieutenant Governor Oglesby said, "the measure is purely precautionary."

The Fourth regiment, reserve militia, is now encamped at Camp Logan, near Zion City.

MAJ. GEN. STRONG IS BLAMED FOR ARMY CRUELTIES

"Hardboiled" Smith on Stand Tells House Committee

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, July 29.—Responsibility for cruel treatment of American soldiers at prison farm number 2, near Paderborn, were placed squarely upon the shoulders of Maj. Gen. S. S. Strong and Colonel E. P. Grinstead by Lieut. Frank H. (Hardboiled) Smith in testimony given by him today before a subcommittee of the house of representatives at Governor's Island.

Asked by Representative Royal C. Johnson, of South Dakota, chairman of the subcommittee if his superior officers were acquainted with conditions in the prison and if he considered them responsible for them, Smith replied:

"Absolutely. Those higher in authority knew everything that took place in the prison."

"What were your orders when you were placed in command?" he was asked.

Smith replied that he had been told by Colonel Grinstead that the orders of General Strong were that prisoners were to be treated as general prisoners.

The witness explained that treatment of general prisoners was much more severe than that of minor offenders under ordinary conditions although most of the men sentenced to farm number 2 were guilty only of such misdemeanors as being absent without leave.

American Troops To Be Withdrawn From Germany By Sept. 1

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C., July 28.—After September 1, the allied army of occupation in Germany will be composed largely of French and Belgian troops, the house military committee was told by Secretary Baker. He said there would be few American troops in this army. The figure he gave the committee was withheld at his request.

German Assembly In Favor of Probe of War Responsibility

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Berlin, Monday, July 28.—(Delayed.)—Socialist motions to hasten the bill establishing a state tribunal to investigate the cause of the war and guilt for it, passed the national assembly at Weimar today by a large majority.

Dr. Eduard David, minister of the interior, said that Germany must have such an institution to offset the entente's proposed court.

"The truth will be very painful to some people," Dr. David declared, "but it will be a blessing to the nation as a whole."

Preserve Protestant Chapel, Wilhelm Asks

By Associated Press Leased Wire

London, Eng., July 29.—The Berlin newspapers say that the former German emperor has written to the archbishop of Posen, asking him to preserve the Protestant chapel at Posen castle for Protestant services and not to convert it to Catholic use.

The former monarch said that it would be unbearable to him to have Roman Catholic services celebrated in the chapel into which he had put his whole soul and in which he prayed for victory for Germany.

MILITIA PATROLS CHICAGO TO HALT FURTHER RIOTING

Death List Growing As Fighting Spreads To Other Parts City

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Ill., July 29.—City, county and state officials united today in an attempt to soothe Chicago's social torment of race rioting complicated by a complete street car strike. Despite their joint efforts trouble flared intermittently throughout the morning and the death list of embattled whites and negroes grew until it reached 24. Even that figure was approximate as unconfirmed reports of additional killings were still seeping into police stations.

The fighting today centered mainly in the heart of the "black belt" along Thirty-fifth street and to cope with the situation the police reopened the old Stanton avenue police station, abandoned about a year ago, and made it their headquarters, massing reserves of men, rifles, patrol wagons, ambulances and motorcycles in the vicinity. Some four thousand state troops were under arms in the city and as many more were under orders to be ready for emergency.

Fights Downtown.

There were two dangerous flare ups, however, as far south as Fifty-first and State streets and three vicious fights took place in the downtown district on Wabash avenue, in broad daylight.

Conditions in the riot district were reported improved at a conference held by Governor Lowden, Mayor Thompson and Adjutant Lockwood at 12:30 p. m. General Dickson after a tour of the south side reported that rioting was slowly subsiding and that the immediate use of state troops would not be necessary. Fifty patrolmen were withdrawn from the "black belt" and assigned to their regular duty in the loop district.

The list of killed is as follows:

Atenburg, Alex. (negro).
Baker, Henry (negro).
Cappel, Eugene (white).
Crawford, James (negro).
Dillion, August (negro).
Dedrick, — (white).
Gentle, Eugene (white).
Gillen, Edward S. (white).
Hefferman, Emmett (white).
Kazzouran, Casper (white).
Klemmerk, Nicholas (white).
Lozzerani, Mirro (white).
Marks, Davis (white).
Mills, John (white).
Powers, Joseph (white).
Sundberg, Alex (white).
Simpson, John H. (negro).
Warnick, Dick (white).
Williams, Robert (negro).
One unidentified white man.

Three unidentified negroes.

Harold Rignadell, white, was riddled by bullets from a house at 1921 south State street, and killed. When the police rushed the place they found and arrested four women and nine men, all negroes. Two revolvers, two razors and axe, several knives and a quantity of cartridges were discovered piled near a window from which the negroes had been shooting.

The police list of riot fatalities rose to 24 at 10:30 a. m. when Thomas Joshua, negro, was killed by a detective who fired into a crowd of rioters on the south side, and when B. F. Hardy, negro, died at a hospital.

Another Negro Killed.

An unidentified negro was killed and two negroes were wounded at Wabash and Adams street, the heart of the downtown district, in rioting which was renewed shortly after 6 o'clock this morning.

Racial disorders spread to the north side today, where a number of negroes were chased and threatened.

Conductor Killed.

Joseph Powers, white, a street car conductor was shot and killed soon after daylight in the stock yards section. William Henderson, a negro, was arrested on suspicion in connection with the killing.

The unidentified negro killed at Wabash and Adams in the loop was approached by a white man, who made some remark which the negro resented. He started to argue, whereupon a mob established at about one hundred gathered and beat the negro. An unidentified member of the mob finally shot the negro in the chest. He died enroute to a hospital.

Round Up Loop Negroes.

The central police hurriedly rounded up about 50 negroes in loop establishments, most of them porters or waiters, and took them to the central station for protection. A few colored women and children were in this group.

Other fights occurred in the loop or on the edge of it soon after daylight, and before the crowds began arriving for the opening of offices and stores. As office time approached, and the streets became jammed, the loop troubles appeared to die out.

HEADQUARTERS OF SOIL ASS'N TOO SMALL; TO MOVE

Directors Will Meet At Amboy To Make Arrangements

Amboy, Ill., July 29.—The present quarters of the Lee County Soil Improvement association on the second floor of the Greene building in Amboy, have not been of sufficient size to accommodate the business of the office for several months. This has been brought to the attention of the board of directors of the association and a meeting has been called for next Thursday at which time the executive committee and directors will meet.

An effort has been made for several weeks past to secure a suitable location for the offices which would make it one of the best arranged county advisor's offices in the State of Illinois. A very suitable location on East avenue is now under consideration and the directors at their meeting Thursday expect to sign up a long time lease for the site. The Lynch building on East avenue was considered a very likely location but could not be secured this year. The former Bruno Rheinbold saloon property is one of the sites that is also being given serious consideration by the directors and members of the executive committee.

It is the plan to have a ground floor location instead of a suite of offices such as have been maintained since the birth of the association in this county. With a ground floor private consultation rooms will be afforded the membership, which feature will answer a long felt want. It is also planned to have a general assembly room with a capacity for seating about a hundred persons where lectures may be given and meetings held. A reading room will be another feature of the new location, according to the plans.

When complete the directors of the association expect to have one of the finest county advisor's headquarters in the state, and one of which every member of the association and the citizens of Amboy will feel proud.

At the meeting of the executive committee Thursday a talk will be given by J. C. Sailor, of Chicago, assistant secretary of the Illinois Agricultural association. Mr. Sailor will discuss with the members of the committee the activities of the association as they now apply and will apply to Lee county, and will also show what a wonderful work the association has accomplished for the farmers throughout the state. The Soil Improvement association has become interested in the movement and is anxious to assist in the promotion of any worthy project.

"BIG FIVE" HAVE PRICE CONTROL WELL IN HAND

Manipulation of Price of Stock is Held Against Them

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C., July 29.—Manipulation of the live stock market through control of market yards and a practical monopoly in the buying of live stock was charged against the "big five" packers, Swift, Armour, Morris, Cudahy and Wilson—the third session of the federal trade commission's report on the packing industry just made public.

The report cited data obtained in the commission's investigation to show that the "big five" hold a majority of voting stock in 22 of the principal stock yards of the country and an interest in the remaining 28. It was said to be impossible to tell in the case of the latter yards whether they have a controlling interest, because of a "remarkable financial device" known as the bearer warrant, which is issued to the stockholder instead of the stock certificate, which is made out to the treasurer of the corporation. This device, it was said, might readily be used to completely hide the true ownership of the stock.

"Of the meat trade in the hands of interstate slaughters in the United States," said the report, "the big five packing companies have more than 73 percent of the total. They have the prices of dressed meat and packing house products so well in hand, that within certain limits, meat prices are made to respond to their wishes."

Discrimination against competing independent buyers also was charged against the "big five" as well as manipulation of the live stock market in such a way as to "cause extreme and unwarranted fluctuations in daily prices paid for live stock." This practice, the report said, had resulted in curtailment of the nation's meat supply by discouraging the production of live stock.

BABY MEPPEN DIED AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

George Elliott Meppen, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Meppen of route 6, died at the family home last evening following a short illness with a complication of troubles. Interment took place in Oakwood cemetery today.

SEEKS ADOPTION OF PACT TO PAY DEBT TO FRANCE

Says It Is Assurance Against Aggression By German Nation

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, July 29.—President Wilson today transmitted to the senate the special treaty with France by which the United States pledges itself to come immediately to the aid of that republic in the event of an unprovoked attack by Germany and asked for its early ratification "along with the treaty with Germany."

Submission of the treaty came after sharp criticism by senate republicans, who for several days had openly charged on the senate floor that in failing to present the draft of the pact along with the treaty of Versailles, the president had violated one of the articles of the document. The president did not follow his usual custom of presenting the treaty in person. He sent it to the capitol by special messenger along with a message explaining its object.

The Franco-American treaty is almost identical with one signed between Great Britain and France. One difference between the texts as made public by the French foreign office to which attention has been called is that the United States pledges itself to go "immediately" to the assistance of France while Great Britain "consents" to assist that country.

Assures Help to France

The president told the senate the purpose of the treaty was to provide assistance for France in case of unprovoked aggression by Germany without waiting for the advice of the council of the league of nations that such action should be taken and explained that it was to be an arrangement, "not independent of the league of nations, but under it."

"The covenant of the league of nations," the president said, "provides for military action for the protection of its members only upon the advice of the council of the league—advice given, it is to be presumed, only upon deliberation and acted upon by each of the governments of the member states only if its judgment justifies such action."

In Force Indefinitely

Pointing out that the treaty "shall receive the approval of the council of the league" the president said it would remain in force "only until, upon the application of one of the parties to it, the council of the league, acting, if necessary by a majority vote, shall agree, that the provisions of the covenant of the league afford her (France) sufficient protection."

Mr. Wilson said he was moved to sign the treaty by the ties of friendship binding the two countries and the assistance France gave America in its struggle for independence. Without this assistance, the president said, it was seriously to be doubted whether America could have won its independence, and added: "Nothing can pay such a debt."

By unanimous consent the French treaty was laid before the senate in open session at the request of Chairman Lodge, of the foreign relations committee.

At the suggestion of Chairman Lodge the treaty was referred to the foreign relations committee without objection or discussion.

Michigan To Probe Methods of Packers

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Detroit, Mich., July 29.—Operations of the big packing companies and other concerns dealing in foodstuffs are to be investigated by Attorney General Alex. J. Groesbeck, to determine whether prices are controlled in violation of Michigan's anti-trust law. In making this announcement today, Mr. Groesbeck stated that if investigation showed any combines violating the state laws, an effort will be made to bar them from doing business in the state.

4,480 Americans Were Captured by Germans

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C., July 29.—A re-checking by the war department of the figures up to June 3 shows the total number of Americans captured by the enemy in France was 4,480, of whom 316 were officers. The 28th division was the heaviest loser with 18 officers and 714 men and the 26th next, with 19 officers and 438 men. The 8th division reported one man captured.

Of the divisions earliest in line, the first division lost no officers and 152 men and the second division five officers and 152 men.

FRANKLIN GROVE AFFAIRS

(By J. C. COOK.)

FAVORABLE OUTLOOK.

The hot dry weather which has prevailed in this section of the country for some time will seriously effect the corn unless there is considerable rain within the immediate future. The corn now shows a wonderful growth and with favorable conditions during the remainder of the season there will be an enormous crop. Nearly all the farm yields so far this season have been good notwithstanding the small grains were damaged some by the rust it is predicted that when threshed the output will be more than some expected. In a brief interview with Mr. C. E. Weybright he said that the hay crop on his farms this year was the largest and best on record. Clover promises a big crop but needs rain soon. The one thing that is absolutely certain, is good prices for everything that is grown.

THE HONEY HARVEST.

Owing to the dust which has settled thick upon every leaf and flower along the roadside and in the fields the busy bees are unable to gather much honey. Bee keepers claim that the little workers seem discouraged and are not doing very much under the present conditions, during this hot dusty time when blossoms wither and die in a single day. By watching the hives one can easily observe that the little workers are not going and coming or the usual activity in bee life. Considerable honey has been made however during the earlier part of the season.

CLASS REUNION.

At the home of Clarence Latham, Friday evening was held the F. G. H. S. 1918 class reunion. The following is a list of members and their present occupations: Harold Latham, class president, student at Mt. Morris college; Luther Durkes, and Raymond Dysart, both students at Wisconsin university; Bertha Naylor, at home; Ethel Lott at home; Ruth Baker and Irene Fruit, DeKalb normal; Elsie Wolfe, Mt. Morris college; Dorothy Faust, employed as stenographer with the Standard Accident & Insurance Co., Chicago. Refreshments were served and a nice social time enjoyed by all. There will be other reunions of this class during the coming year which will mark the progress of the different members as they take their places in the world's great workshop. Some will be instructors, guiding the minds of others into ways of usefulness; some will become the reigning queen of the home, others will play their part in the intensive struggle of commercial life, and some will follow the lines of least resistance and of greatest profit and on the broad and fertile acres of the farm will garner the fruits of the soils. As graduates of the F. G. H. S. each one should be well equipped for the duties of life.

THE ROMANCE OF SUCCESS.

One of the most extensive farmers in Lee county, operating farms here and in other states is Mr. C. E. Weybright. His landed interests here and in Iowa and Kansas include some 1350 acres and involve the care and attention of seven different farm plants and equipments. While giving the closest attention to business affairs Mr. Weybright is not so entirely absorbed in material matters as to lose interest in the finer sentiments of life. He is a great reader and observer of all the passing events of the day and interested in educational and political problems of the age. When asked his opinion regarding the present high valuation of farm lands, Mr. Weybright said he would not attempt to analyze it but considered it a remarkable condition and that he had often wondered if eventually some line of limitation would be reached.

THE MODERN WAY.

On the Milt Crawford farm, just north of town there may be seen the most perfect and complete electric farm lighting plants in this country. Power is supplied from an automatic gas engine, connected with a dynamo and storage batteries. The lighting system not only extends to every room in the house and every part of the big barn, feeding pens and sheds, milk house, hen houses but to every other outbuilding on the premises. Mr. Crawford has done most of the installing and wiring of the plant and the entire system is certainly a credit to both owner and manufacturer. Considering capacity and all else the cost has been very reasonable. Mr. Crawford is a daily reader of the Dixon Evening Telegraph and appreciates its news service, and is among the foremost up-to-date farmers of this county as evidenced by the modern methods employed in his farm work. Cement walks extend to every building and the entire circuit of the plant can be made without stepping on the ground. Cement floors are in all feeding pens and sheds, hen houses and yards are enclosed in substantial wire fences that absolutely imprison the flocks. The finest cucumber patch in the country is on this place and a considerable patch of sugar beets promise much choice feed for the egg producers. If you want honey, you must have money is an old saying, but Mr. Crawford has a large force of workers manufacturing and storing the honey comb throughout the season with hardly any cost whatever. Just knowledge and attention is all that is required.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

I made no reply to Barrett Edmonds when he spoke about bringing flowers had he known it was my birthday. Suddenly it had crossed my mind that perhaps Everett would not like it that he had called. It made me feel awkward and almost embarrassed for a moment. But as soon as he had placed some music on the piano and I had commenced trying it, I forgot everything but the pleasure of having him with me, and the music.

We sang together for about an hour. Trying a verse of one song then of another. I felt quite ashamed of my little almost un-cultivated voice when I first heard him, but he was so kind, and said such nice, honest-sounding things to me, that I forgot all about my embarrassment and sang just as I would have done for dad or the home boys.

Your voice is delicious," Barrett said when we had stopped and he was going. "You sing as naturally as a bird. If you will let me come and join you occasionally I shall be delighted."

"So shall I?" was my answer, given so heartily that I blushed and he looked pleased.

I rather dreaded telling Everett that had he called. Not that I had the slightest feeling that I had done anything wrong, but because I did not know Everett's wishes in the matter. I almost wished I had told him that Barrett had asked to call—I already thought of him as 'Barrett'—it would be awful now to tell him he couldn't come again. Not the slightest idea of going against my husband's commands had occurred to me. In this as in every thing I should do as he said—I would have to.

But Everett had been so kind in the morning, and it was my birthday. Perhaps he would be nice because of that. I dressed carefully before he came. He liked me always to dress for dinner, and when we were going to the play or the opera I always dressed for the evening before we dined. I wore a dress he particularly liked and my new bracelet, as well as the diamond and sapphire one. When he came in he complimented me, and kissed me. I told him I should have worn the bond pinned on my dress had I not been afraid I would lose it.

"I have had such a nice day," I said following him up stairs.

"What have you been doing?" "I wrote letters all the morning. You see if I don't write both boys separately they are jealous. Then I had my luncheon, and started one of my new books. Then about 3 o'clock Mr. Edmonds called. I almost missed him. I was just thinking I would go out for a ride. And—"

"You had not known he was coming?"

"No," I answered truthfully, "but he said something about bringing his music at Mrs. Morgan's dinner last week. I happened to see a note he had written. He said he made a 'big noise' occasionally—he sings wonderfully—and asked if he might drop in some afternoon with his music. I had almost forgotten it when he appeared today. But we tried over the music he brought for about an hour, then he went away. Then I came right upstairs and dressed. So you see I have had a busy and a very nice day."

"Yes—I see." I didn't like Everett's tone, but I waited. I had hurried thru the story of the day trying to avoid laying special emphasis on Barrett Edmonds' call. I did it quite unconsciously at the time. But it must have shown Everett that I had not planned to do anything with out telling him—or perhaps it would be better to say, 'asking his permission.' However it was, he said nothing more, but proceeded to dress. It was not until I heard a cryptic remark he made long afterward that I was able to understand his attitude on my eighteenth birthday concerning Barrett Edmonds' call. I overheard him say: "Often by making a thing take on prominence, you put thoughts into the heads of immature people which never would have otherwise come to them."

He must have thought that if he said I shouldn't receive Barrett Edmonds, a man whom his friends knew and received, he would make me ask questions, and perhaps attach more importance to Barrett's call than it really deserved.

I was gradually learning to keep still when Everett was inclined to be gracious; not to worry him by talking or questions. So now I left him alone to finish dressing.

"I will read until you are ready," I said, raising my face for another kiss. "You have only kissed me twice."

You owe me 16 more," I said laughing, then was so astonished I couldn't speak when he crushed me in his arms, and gave me many more than 16 kisses.

I felt awfully embarrassed. It was almost as if some stranger had kissed me so fiercely. I ran from the room, declaring I should have to rearrange my toilet instead of reading, because he had mussed me so.

When we sat down at the table half an hour later I understood the mysterious looks which had passed between Mrs. Gray and Betty. A lovely birthday cake with eighteen candles graced the center of the table. And they had trimmed the cloth with smiles, making it look just like a party. "So I told them, to their delight, and Everett's amusement. But it was nice in them; and made me very happy. Tomorrow—Matchmaking."

HAIG EXPLAINS.

Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig has taken advantage of General Pershing's visit to England to modify the unpleasant impression created by his speech at Newcastle July 8, in which he said:
"We talk a great deal about our allies.
It was necessary and right that we should do so, to buck them up all we could while the fighting was going on.
But don't forget, it was the British empire that won this war!"

He now says he was talking as one Briton to another on their own part in the war, with special reference to one of the most critical periods, 1917, before Americans arrived, so that he had no occasion to mention the Americans whose later assistance was of "the greatest consequence, forming a definite and indispensable part of the allied operations. In the spring of 1918 our troops were inspired to hold on until the American army arrived with aid.
That's the measure of our debt to the Americans. I have so often expressed admiration for their deeds that I trust I can say a word or two in praise of my own people without giving offense to others."

No one suspects the marshal of intend to give offense. His Newcastle remarks were, as he says, addressed to Englishmen without thought of a wider audience. It is to be expected that each country should exalt its own to itself, but Haig's mistake was in forgetting his international importance. When a big man talks these days, he talks to the world.

With all respect to our friends who fought in other armies before America entered the war, some of them are lacking in appreciation of America's part in the struggle. No thoughtful American will contend that America alone won the war, but no one can deny that America contributed the weight that finally determined the result. That can be agreed to and can be acknowledged without disparagement to any of the nations or armies which took heroic part in the struggle.

A DECISION AND A FORECAST.

Secretary Baker has assured the packers that trade conditions would not be disturbed.

He has assured the people that the high cost of living would soon come rumbling down by reason of government action in putting millions of dollars worth of surplus army food purchased on the market.

The secretary could not serve both the people and the packers. General March has shown by his testimony that, in the dilemma, Secretary Baker elected to stand by the packing interests.

The secretary's decision may be taken as something of a forecast as to what will happen on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in the month of November, the year of our Lord 1920.

morrow afternoon. Other members of morning.

10:00 a. m.—Bible Conference. Address by Rev. Charles S. Bauslin on the subject, "The Church College and Christian Education. In this address, Dr. Bauslin brought out the fact that the Church Colleges have furnished the majority of leaders in modern world movements. He prophesied that in the present and coming period of reconstruction, the men to do the real work would be the men trained by the Church College.

D., Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Luth-

Md. His address told of the reorganization of the Missionary Machinery of the United Lutheran Church; emphasizing the everwidening and increasing opportunities in the mission field, and giving the plans of the board for improving these opportunities.

Afternoon.

2:00 p. m. Prelude, Reader and Whistler, Miss Alice Louise Schrode, the Child Wonder. Gifted with an unusual childish appreciation, this little artist of thirteen years won the hearts of her huge audience in her first appearance.
She read with great success such popular readings as "Naughty Nell," "Monkey-Man," and "I've got a Pain in My Sawdust," and whistled "The Mocking Bird" in a way that startled the big audience. Her personality is very pleasing, and her natural grace and an unusually expressive face show her well suited to her work as an entertainer.
She is a true artist; a very pretty little girl; and above all, unspoiled and perfectly human.

2:30 p. m.—Lecture, "The Cure of Fear and Worry" by Dr. Stanley L.
Krebs. Dr. Krebs is one of the enigmas of his profession. Is he scientist, scholar, psychologist, fakir, showman, preacher, lecturer, business man, or what? The truth of the matter is that he is a combination of all the good, bad, and indifferent that goes to make up one of the most interesting lecturers that is on the platform today. In this lecture he gave some very practical cures for Fear and Worry; physical and mental exercises which will produce sleep for the restless; and also bodily exercises for the general good of the individual. Dr. Krebs is a man of sound physique as well as a man of unusual intelligence and education.

Evening.

7:00 p. m.—Riverside Sunset Service.
7:45 p. m.—Prelude by Miss Alice Louise Schrode. This little artist, already a favorite, drew a big house and held its closest attention throughout her program. She gave such numbers as "Little Orphan Annie," by Riley; and
"When You Haven't Said Your Prayers." Her interpretation and childish winsomeness have made a lasting impression upon all who have heard her.
There is no resisting her charm.

own words, this lecture consisted of "a

At the regular meeting of the coun-vised taxi-licensing ordinance will be submitted for consideration, and it is hinted that members of the various Cream quickly shows a decided improvement. Try it today at our expense.

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the face that whist it turns the duldest, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest trace of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puff-iness around the eyes, freckles, crows feet or lines around the mouth, writhing finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Butter-

MILITIA PATROLS
CHICAGO TO HALT
FURTHER RIOTING

4000 TROOPS CALLED OUT
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 29—Four thousand soldiers with full war equipment stood ready today to quell the race rioting between negroes and whites that during two bloody nights of terror in the south side black belt cost the lives of at least 20 men, including one negro policeman, and the injury of hundreds of others, many seriously and probably a dozen fatally. Four of the injured are soldiers. The police and the coroner have been unable to make a complete check of the casualties, but reports showed 13 whites and 7 negroes killed last night.

Thousands in Battle
A hundred thousand negroes and an equal number of whites either fought in the streets and alleys or covered in their homes while shots rang out, mounted policemen galloped along the boulevards, patrol wagons dashed back and forth with prisoners and wounded and children screamed as men fought with cudgels, knives and fists.

When the rioting, which started Sunday night with the stoning and drowning of a negro, who had drifted on a raft into the water of a beach used by whites, broke out afresh last night, Mayor Thompson asked Governor Lowden for troops. The governor, who was on his way to Lincoln, Neb., turned back at Burlington, Ia., and Acting Governor Oglesby gave Adjutant General Dickson orders to mobilize necessary soldiers. By midnight four regiments were in armories on the south side, but by that time the police had cleared the streets for the night and begun collecting the dead and injured and rounding up looters.

Great Negro Influx
The taste of blood Sunday night whetted the appetite of hundreds of adventurous persons who had long grieved at the rapid influx of negroes, who have spread over a large territory formerly constituting a fine residential quarter of the south side. Property had decreased in value and whites had emigrated to other parts of the city by thousands, but many others had clung to their homes while the streets and one of the large parks became thronged with Africans.

Both parties to the contest, enraged by stories of the cruelties of the other side during Sunday night's melee, deliberately armed themselves last night and went out to stalk their prey. As soon as darkness fell, the fighting in various forms became fierce.

Negroes Fire From Autos
In some cases negroes in automobiles dashed through the streets, firing at any group of whites encountered. In other cases, white men attacked the buildings occupied by negroes, shooting through windows and doors, while the inmates fled back from barricades. Bands of both races marched through the streets and, meeting, fought battles that ceased only when the pavement was covered with dead and wounded, or the mounted police had spurred their horses through the truculent mass.

Street Cars Stop Running
Many individual fights, hand to hand struggles with knives and razors added to the casualties. Men and women were dragged from street cars until the company stopped running the vehicles through the affected area. In one instance a band of whites, passing a mansion on spacious Grand boulevard, and resenting the occupancy of the place by blacks, was fired on from the house.

Looters Are Busy
As the night wore on and the bands of terrorists were broken up by the policemen, looters and incendiaries appeared. Several houses were fired, and one was burned. A number of stores were broken open and sacked, while vandals of both races broke and mugged and besmirched the habitations of their opponents.

Toward daylight, the less aggressive having been driven to cover, worn out with fighting or arrested, a number of white rioters invaded the downtown quarter, beat negroes found on the street and dragged covering porters from all night restaurant and hotels to the streets, flogged them unmercifully.

Three Soldiers Injured
Among those injured during the night were three members of the Seventh regiment who were beset by negroes while on the way to their armory. Corp. W. T. Riggs was shot in the back; Charles T. Williams was shot in the side and J. N. Rinkus was slashed with a razor. Major Fred Haynes was found probably fatally beaten, presumably by negroes. An automobile containing Adjutant General Dickson was fired on, but without injury to the occupants.

An exodus of negroes to the north side and also to west side of Chicago began as the fighting was at its height. Some 50,000 negroes already live in those parts of the city, and the police took precautions to stop any resentment shown by whites at the added population of Africans. This hegin was stopped at daybreak by the street car strike.

Police Rescue Whites
A few whites were penned in their homes by negroes and had to telephone for police aid to escape. One family managed to elude the negroes by blacking their faces and departing in disguise.

Taxicab drivers, as news of the feud spread, refused to take passengers into the maelstrom and residents who lived along the car lines that were stopped had long walks through the field of battle. As far as the police could learn, these persons suffered no affronts if they went quietly on their way.

Whites More Aggressive
The various affrays owed their initiative about equally to the two races, although the white men seemed to be the prime aggressors, the negroes starting their assaults more as counter offensives. Most of the white rioters were young men and youths.

The police devoted much of their activity to clearing the streets of negroes, and many of the fatalities resulted from the recalcitrancy of the blacks against the order to disperse. In one crowd at 35th street and State street, whose street car line is known as the African Central, former Alderman De Priest, a negro, was with a crowd of blacks ordered to scatter. They refused despite the pleading of the former alderman and two negro police sergeants, and the officers fired into the assembly, killing four and barely missing the former alderman.

Hoodlums the Cause
A police captain in the black belt ascribed the trouble to the hoodlums of negroes who came to Chicago during the last two years to make up the shortage in labor caused by the war. He said his experience showed that the older negro residents sanely refrained from such clashes.

BROWNS WIN 3 TO 2
FROM "Y" BY RALLY
IN THE 9TH INNING

Paddock Pitched Stellar Ball for Y, Allowing Three Hits

The Dixon Browns defeated the Y. M. C. A. baseball team last evening in a twilight game at the park by a ninth inning rally, when with two men out and two strikes and three balls called upon him, Allen, the only one of the team who seemed to be able to solve Paddock's delivery, knocked out a two-bagger and scored the winning run on a wild throw by Evans of Devine's infield grounder, to first.

The score before this performance 2 to 2, after eight and a half innings of the tightest king of baseball. The game developed soon after its start into a pitcher's duel between Huber of the Browns and Paddock, who came here from Ashton to do the twirling for the Y team. Paddock had the best of the duel, allowing only 3 hits and striking out 13 men. Huber allowed 6 hits and struckout 11 men.

Paddock struck out every man that faced him in the second and fourth innings. Huber was working in good form and was given perfect support by his teamsters. Paddock's support was ragged at times, three errors being chalked up against his teamsters.

The crowd numbered about 500 persons and enthusiasm was high at all times. The Y scored the first run in the second inning and during the next six innings neither side scored. The lineup follows:

GOVERNMENT EXPERTS HERE TO WAGE FIGHT AGAINST WHEAT RUST

Long War Will be Carried Against the Barberry— Fight Necessary

Four representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Messrs. J. H. Gage, D. A. Albrecht, E. F. Gebba, and R. R. Schultz, authorized to inspect for and request the removal of the common and purple barberry, are making a survey of Lee county, with temporary headquarters at the Dixon Inn. The government, in sending these men here to order the removal of dangerous varieties of barberry bushes, is determined to control and eliminate the dreaded black stem rust of wheat from our grain fields.

The common barberry is the direct spreader of the black stem rust, a terrible scourge of wheat, oats, rye and barley in the grain districts. This is not fiction but it is the bold truth. The relationship of the barberry and the rust of wheat has been repeatedly proved and demonstrated in our pathological laboratories and is further attested to by the experience of those European countries that have eliminated the barberry and increased their yield of wheat thereby.

In our country grain growers have been suffering greatly from the ravages of wheat rust. The whole wheat belt annually becomes infested with this disease through the barberry. In the year 1916 wheat rust was the principal factor in reducing the yield of wheat in the states of North and South Dakota, Montana and Minnesota by more than 250,000,000 bushels, a loss which would not have occurred had there been no common barberry in these states. The government, acting through the Department of Agriculture, is determined to eradicate the barberry and while we are calling and urging the farmers to take every cultural and preventative measure to prevent the rusting of their grain, owners of city yards, estates, parks and cemeteries are called to help by digging out and burning this spreader of the disease.

Common Barberry Spreads Rust.

The black stem rust has four states in its life cycle, one of which is spent only on the common barberry and its horticultural varieties, including the purple leaved barberry. In the spring the barberry becomes infected by the basidio-spores of the fungus. These spores represent the last stage in the life cycle and produce infection in the spring upon the common barberries only. In this state they will not attack wheat or other grains; consequently the barberry acts as an alternate host for the disease and serves to propagate it for its attack upon the young grain in the early summer. The disease can be identified on the barberry by solitary orange yellow spots on the under sides of the leaves. These spots contain cluster cups which produce millions of spores, or seed bodies. This is the first stage in the life cycle and occurs only upon the barberry in the spring.

When the seed bodies on the barberry mature the spores are carried great distances by the winds, fall upon young wheat and grasses, immediately produce infection and cause the dreaded red or summer stage of the rust. The red stage is able to reproduce itself many times and field after field falls prey to the disease and the production of grain is immensely reduced. This red stage is impossible without the spring stage which propagates on the barberry, consequently by destroying the barberry the wheat rust cannot propagate in the spring.

Following the red stage comes the black or third stage, which also occurs on wheat, oats, rye, barley, and other grasses. This stage usually appears in the autumn or upon the maturity of the host plant. In this stage the rust goes through the winter on stubbles, straw, volunteer grains or grasses. In the early spring the spores from this stage known as telio-spores are carried by the winds to barberry bushes where they germinate and produce the basidio-spore of the fourth stage, thus completing the life cycle.

Total elimination of the common and purple barberry bushes from the wheat growing regions is therefore the fundamental factor in the control and elimination of wheat rust.

Japanese Barberry Harmless.

The Japanese Barberry (Berberis Thunbergii) does not rust, is harmless, and need not be destroyed. The Japanese barberry may be distinguished from the common barberry by the fol-

UNCLE SAM AND MISS LIBERTY

Leaders in a big equine dancing act which will be a feature of the performance of the A. G. Barnes' circus in Dix on Tuesday, August 5, afternoon and evening.

Japanese Barberry—

1. Edge of leaf smooth.
2. Berries come singly or rarely in groups of two's or three's.
3. Thorns usually single.

Common Barberry—

1. Edge of leaves saw-toothed.
2. Berries come in clusters on a main stem.
3. Thorns usually three-pronged.

Examine your barberries and if you have the common varieties, destroy them at once; do not wait for the man who will come to inspect your property, but give the government the fullest measure of your co-operation in eradicating the barberry and increasing the wheat. Always remember, less barberry means more bread.

Break Your Chains Be Strong and Well

Why drag along through life—half-sick, weak and tired out all the time. You can be strong and well—full of energy and vitality—glowing with health, and thrilled with the joy of life. You can enjoy life.

Rich, healthy blood makes the whole body healthy.

Nature intended that everyone should be strong and well, and there is no mystery about Nature's laws.

Oxygen is the life giver—necessary to maintain life. REOLO absorbs the oxygen from the air in the lungs and carries it into the blood—rapidly oxidizing or revitalizing the red blood cells—and increasing the amount of hemoglobin in the blood, sending through the entire body a stream of rich, vitalized, health-giving blood that nourishes every cell, of the nerves, tissues, brain and bones.

REOLO Makes Rich Red Blood

If the supply of oxygen is not sufficient, the engine runs down, vital force wanes, the fire goes out, and the whole machinery of the body stops. When the blood is vitalized with oxygen, the complicated structure of the cells of the body is broken down, and the energy liberated which serves to drive the human engine.

REOLO acts on the blood, and by constantly cleansing and revitalizing it converts the blood into a vigilant guard against the insidious attacks of disease. It assists every natural force in the body. It makes it possible for the blood to build up what the stress of daily activity, overwork, over-exertion and overtaxing of the body tears down. Waste products are cast out—new cells grow—the hollow cheeks fill out and take on the ruddy glow of health. The spring comes back to the step, the whole body tingles with health and vitality—and the brain is cleared to meet the battle with the problems of life.

By special arrangement with the Dr. A. L. Reusing Laboratories, Akron, Ohio, we have been appointed Licensees for the distribution of REOLO—direct from the laboratories, certified by Dr. Reusing and positively guaranteed to give satisfactory results or we'll gladly refund your money. Large box of Reolo, 100 tablets, $1.00.

CORN SENTIMENT BEARISH DESPITE DROUGHT REPORT

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill., July 29.—Although on account of drought and heat, the corn market opened firm today, sentiment later became bearish. Weakness in the hog market tended to unsettle and confidence of holders, and so too did the strained labor situation and the race riots. Commission houses with rural connections led the selling. Initial prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1c higher, with September, 1.97½ to 1.98 and December 1.72½ to 1.73, were followed by a reaction all around to slightly below yesterday's finish.

Oats were swayed by the action of corn. After opening ½c off to ½c advance, including September 81½ to 81½, the market hardened a little, and then underwent a moderate sag.

Provisions were nearly lifeless owing to the main to the fact that packing house operations had been hampered by labor shortage resulting from the car strike and race riots.
